LAW STUDENTS AT SMOKER.
Class of 1918, National University, Meets at New Ebbitt.

A smoker given by the class of 1918, National University Law School, at the New Ebbitt Hotel last night, was attended by nearly every member of the class and all of the faculty who have been giving first year lectures. The toastmaster was Joseph F. Randall, president of the class, and there were talks by the dean of the school, Charles F. Carusi, Justice E. L. Siddons, Corporation Counsel Conrad H. Stone and Prof. Edwin C. Burton and W. M. Wampler. In behalf of the class, R. O. Jones and John A. Holmes spoke briefly.

A program of songs and recitations was given by O. E. Woerner, Gilbert C. Tennant, Roy Arnold and V. Scannell. The entertainment closed at midnight with the singing of college and topical songs under the leadership of Robert E. Pollock, first vice president of the class and chairman of the entertainment committee.

Funeral of W. G. Davis Tomorrow.
Funeral services for Policeman William Garrett Davis of the fourth precinct, who yesterday morning ended his life at his home, 655 street southwest, will be conducted at St. Dominic's Church, 6th and E streets southwest, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The pallbearers, all members of the Policemen's Association and connected with the fourth precinct, will be Archie Baker, J. T. Herbert, Conrad Reinhard, Sgt. J. R. Evans, J. T. Buckley and J. M. Horner. Interment will be at Mount Olivet cemetery.

FIVE KILLED ON LOCAL HIT BY EXPRESS IN FOG

More Than Thirty Injured in New Haven Road Wreck—Dispute as to Signals.

BRAEFORD, R. L., April 18.—A search of the wreckage resulting from the rear-end collision of two trains on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad here last night was still in progress today, in an effort to determine whether it contained any bodies in addition to the five persons who are known to have lost their lives. It was the opinion of many persons who were at the scene during the night that at least three other passengers had been unable to extricate themselves from the burning mass. The known dead were:

Thomas Boardman, Western, employee of the Bradford Dye Association.
Miss Jeanette Clark, Western, daughter of William Clark, president of the Western mill of the American Thread Company.
Margaret Bliss, address unknown.
William Barber, Western, carpenter.
Miss Oscar Martelle, Southbridge, Mass., died in hospital at New London.

Suffer Cuts, Bruises or Shock.
More than thirty other persons were injured, most of them suffering from cuts and bruises or shock.
All the victims were occupants of the rear car of a local train, which had started to run on a siding in front of Bradford Road when the 4311 Express from Boston crashed into it. Cuts from the express locomotive and the explosion of a gas tank set fire to the wreckage and the flames spread so rapidly that the nearby station and freight house were destroyed, together with four wooden coaches of the local train. The passengers had much difficulty in climbing out of the demolished car and those who lost their lives were badly burned.

As there is no fire department here, no adequate fight could be made against the flames until the arrival of apparatus from Western, six miles distant.

Traffic Resumed.
No one was injured on the express, which was backed to a junction and proceeded to New York soon after the accident. Early today the tracks were sufficiently cleared to enable the resumption of traffic and all the survivors proceeded on their trains.
Trains were at variance in their statements as to the signals set against the express after the local train, derailed here by engine trouble, had been ordered to take the siding. They agreed that the signal nearest the local was set for danger, but Charles H. Mansfield, engineer of the express, said the signal text behind this showed a clear track ahead, and that when he caught sight of the head light shining through the thick fog it was too late to stop his swiftly speeding train.

I. C. C. Inquiry Starts.
F. A. Howard and J. P. McArdle, agents of the interstate commerce commission, have been ordered from their stations at Springfield and Worcester, Mass., to Bradford, R. L., to investigate last night's wreck on the New Haven railroad.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR UNION.
School Teachers Defer Adoption of Constitution Until Next Month.

Teachers of the Washington public schools met yesterday afternoon in the First congregational Church, 10th and C streets northwest, and listened to the report of the constitution committee, which submitted a draft of a constitution for the new organization which the teachers propose to form.
However, in view of the fact that the printed copies of the constitution had not been in the hands of the teachers for a sufficient length of time to permit them to study it thoroughly, the matter of its adoption was left until the meeting next month, the date of which was left to the discretion of the temporary chairman.
The vote was taken yesterday. It was on the question as to whether those in the schools with supervisory powers should be admitted to active membership. The body voted against having supervisors in the organization as active members.
Miss M. R. Parkman, temporary chairman of the organization, resigned, and Miss T. R. Craighill was elected to succeed her. Miss Myrtle King was elected temporary secretary. The report of the constitution committee was submitted by Miss Helen Gordon, chairman.

CONSERVATION TO BE THEME.
Civics Section of Twentieth Century Club to Meet Thursday Morning.

The civics section of the Twentieth Century Club is to hold its monthly meeting Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the parlor of All Souls' Church. The general subject of the meeting will be "Conservation."
The speakers are to be Robert Sterling Ward, who is to speak on "Conservation of Our Parks"; Mrs. Flora McDonald Thompson, president of the Housekeepers' Alliance, on "War on Waste"; and Mrs. A. B. Tracy, on "Conservation of Birds." The leader of the civics section is Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor and the associate leader Mrs. F. V. Colville.

Initials May Lead to Identification.
The initials "M. E." on the garments of a waif found abandoned in the vestibule of house 233 7th street northeast last night about 8 o'clock may be the means of identifying the mother of the foundling. It is thought the child is about three months old. The infant was found by an occupant of the house and turned over to the police. She was taken to Washington Hospital for Foundlings.

Funeral of W. G. Davis Tomorrow.
Funeral services for Policeman William Garrett Davis of the fourth precinct, who yesterday morning ended his life at his home, 655 street southwest, will be conducted at St. Dominic's Church, 6th and E streets southwest, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The pallbearers, all members of the Policemen's Association and connected with the fourth precinct, will be Archie Baker, J. T. Herbert, Conrad Reinhard, Sgt. J. R. Evans, J. T. Buckley and J. M. Horner. Interment will be at Mount Olivet cemetery.

WASHINGTONIANS SEEK HOLY NAME PRESIDENCY

Will Send Many Delegates to Archdiocesan Convention in Baltimore April 30.

The Holy Name Society of Washington will attend the annual convention of the Archdiocesan Union in Baltimore April 29 with what is expected to be the largest number of delegates ever sent out by a religious organization in the District, and go prepared to endeavor to elect one of their members president of the union.

This was developed last night at their big meeting held at the assembly of the Sacred Heart Church, when representatives were present from the following churches: St. Ann's of Tenleytown, St. Jerome of Hyattsville, St. Mary's of Alexandria, St. Teresa's of Uniontown and the following locals: Holy Trinity, St. Stephen, St. Matthew, St. Paul, St. Augustine, Immaculate Conception, St. Patrick's, Sacred Heart, St. Mary's, St. Dominic's, St. Vincent de Paul, Holy Rosary, St. Aloysius, St. Joseph, Holy Name, St. Peter, Holy Name, St. John, St. Elizabeth, St. Cyril, Church of the Holy Incarnation, St. Cyril, Church of the Holy Incarnation, St. Cyril, Church of the Holy Incarnation, St. Cyril, Church of the Holy Incarnation.

That every parish in the city had affiliated with the local organization was announced by President John Hadley Doyle as the principal event of the year. Reports were received from the many parishes and Secretary Frank Bresnahan of Immaculate Conception Church announced that the enrollment would total more than 12,000 members, a gain of about 125 per cent. President M. D. Schaeffer of the union announced that the local organization had delivered an address on the success of the organization and the harmony that all showed in working for the uplift of men through the organization. He thanked all for their co-operation. P. J. Halligan, secretary of the society, urged a full attendance of delegates at the Baltimore convention, in order that Washington may again be honored in the election of diocesan president.

The spiritual director of the society, Rev. P. C. Gavan of Sacred Heart parish, congratulated the members on the work of the year, the success in bringing in all the parishes, and he exhorted them all never to forget the underlying principles of the society, the love and respect for the divinity of Jesus Christ, which meant good citizenship and upright men, better homes and everything pertaining to Catholic Christianity. He also urged the delegates to go in force to Baltimore.
The society passed a resolution of regret at the loss of the services of the Rev. F. C. Gaffney of St. Dominic's, who had been sent to labor in other fields, and the resolution stated that was hoped the provincial would see his way clear to let him return to Washington he speedily.
The convention in Baltimore, April 29, will open with a solemn high mass at Corpus Christi Church, and the services will be presided by the Rev. P. C. Gavan, spiritual director of the Washington branch. It was at this church that Father Gavan had his calling, having served there as an altar boy and afterward as a priest, when first ordained.

The convention takes place in the auditorium at 3 o'clock, when Bishop Corrigan will preside.
The Washington delegation will leave on a special train at 9:45 o'clock and will march from Mount Royal station to the church in a body.

TO SING "OLIVET TO CALVARY."
All Souls' Choir Will Present Maunder's Composition Tomorrow.

"Olivet to Calvary," by Maunder, is to be sung tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock by the choir of All Souls' Memorial Church, Cathedral and Connecticut avenues. Rev. J. McBride Stewart, rector. The choir will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Sherier Bowie, J. E. M. Bowie and Arthur N. Gardner as soloists.

Girls' Tennis Team at G. W. U.
George Washington University is organizing a girls' tennis team. Thirty-six coaches have reported for practice on the municipal courts. An extensive schedule of games with the principal girls' schools and colleges of the east and south is being arranged. Miss Nell Stanton has been appointed assistant manager of tennis by the faculty and will have general charge of the girls' activities.

HOUSING TASK GREATER IN CITIES OF REPUBLIC

Mr. Idhler Speaks at Meeting of the Georgetown Citizens' Association.

It is up to the United States to prove that republican methods can surpass those of an autocracy in dealing with the housing problem, in the opinion of John Idhler, secretary of the Ellen Wilson Home, Germany has solved the matter in an autocratic fashion, making her citizens fit for military service, he declared. Germany's objects and methods of accomplishment, he is confident, will not suit the American ideal.

Mr. Idhler was a speaker before the Georgetown Citizens' Association last night. The organization was also addressed by Miss Elizabeth G. Fox, superintendent of the Inspecting Visiting Nurses' Society. The monthly meeting was held in Potomac Bank Hall, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania avenues.

Hopes for Fair Revenue.
The Ellen Wilson Home project, said Mr. Idhler, is an American application to the housing problem for negroes in Washington. While it is not a financial speculation with prospect of big earnings, he is in hopes that it will bring a fair revenue on the investment.

Miss Fox explained that the Visiting Nurses' Society concerned itself with the conservation of the economic value of life. The wealthy and well-to-do, she said, provide themselves in sickness with proper attention and attendance, but those in the middle class, who keep their heads above water in life, find themselves, and the poor, who are always with us and never have their heads above water, are lacking in such facilities.

The Visiting Nurses' Society, she said, aims to meet that situation and provide the work of the service of a social standing to be above charity, the services may be paid for at a nominal price. In the power homes no compensation is sought.

Cites Physician's Attitude.
Miss Fox cited several concrete cases, indicating the diagnosis and advice of the attending physician, who puts on his hat and walks out after suggesting a change of environment and a trained nurse when it is doubtful if the doctor's bill will be paid.

There are twenty-eight trained nurses in the Washington branch of the Visiting Nurses' Society, Miss Fox stated. All they ask is that the news be spread that they are ready and willing for the service to which they have consecrated themselves.

PAUL STEPHENSON DIES.

Succumbs at Age of 35, Following Illness of Several Months.

Paul Stephenson, thirty-five years old, son of Samuel L. Stephenson, died yesterday at his father's home, 2632 16th street northwest, following an illness of several months' duration. Awaiting of death by a brother, Lieut. Lowry B. Stephenson of the Marine Corps, who is with the Atlantic fleet off the Virginia capes, funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mr. Stephenson received his education in the local graded schools and at Central High School. When he was eighteen years old he went to Colorado to engage in mining. Later he successfully operated a ranch in Colorado, following which he removed to Canada, where he engaged in extensive real estate operations.

He returned to the United States last year and came to Washington in December.

Miss Fox explained that the Visiting Nurses' Society concerned itself with the conservation of the economic value of life. The wealthy and well-to-do, she said, provide themselves in sickness with proper attention and attendance, but those in the middle class, who keep their heads above water in life, find themselves, and the poor, who are always with us and never have their heads above water, are lacking in such facilities.

GETTING THEIR BOATS READY.

Owners of Pleasure Craft Preparing for Summer Season.

With the prospect of pleasant weather coming pleasure owners are pushing work on their vessels in preparation for the coming boating season on the Potomac river and Chesapeake bay. The large power cruiser Bohemia, belonging to Charles Quill, out on the marine railway at the Potomac Fishing and Gunning Club, at the foot of 9th street southwest, for painting and repairs, will be completed and put overboard this week.

The beautifying of the handsome launch Hakama, belonging to L. C. Storer, has been completed at Bennett's boatyard and the craft returned to the water. She will be used by Judge Storer for summer cruises on the lower Potomac and on the bay. Bennett also has the yard yacht Scabell, belonging to Henry Seymour, at his boatyard for general repairs and painting. The Scabell has been out of service for the last eighteen months, her owner having been ill. Mr. Seymour is now recovering and it is stated the Scabell will be placed in commission this summer.

Repairs are being made to the launch Benjamin N., as she lies at anchor in the harbor off the foot of 11th street southwest. At the Corinthian Yacht Club headquarters, on the Virginia side of the river at the end of the Highway bridge, the grounds are being improved and beautified, and the owners of the launches lying in the club pen are putting the boats in condition for service in the coming month.

Women are engaged to patrol the army camps in England.

is well known as the Editor of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL. But the editorial part of the magazine does not begin and end with him. Back of him are 32 salaried editors—each the very pick of his or her profession. So that when a woman asks a question of THE HOME JOURNAL she does not get a haphazard answer. That answer goes to her direct from the best authority in that particular field. Let her ask a piano question and Josef Hofmann answers it; a question about a book and Hamilton W. Mabie writes her; a question about a baby and the two best baby doctors in New York—both women—answer her; an entire board of Domestic Science experts is at the disposal of the questioner in the new housekeeping.

That is why 663,000 women wrote to THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL last year and each got an answer, prompt and direct: straight to the point and by mail—at once.

It is a clearing-house of the most authoritative information that is back of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL. It took 25 years to build it up, but that is why the magazine has reached its great and famous position. It is the magazine to which women instinctively turn and they know from actual experience that they can safely do so.

You can see this for yourself in a copy of
